

Alan Auld
ENGINEERING

Project Data Sheet - General Civil Engineering Design

The Alan Auld Group carries out general civil engineering design work for asset owners and contractors. These schemes are typically very varied, ranging from small discrete elements of work to comprehensive projects, at various stages from site investigation through to completion. We have recent experience designing amongst other things, piling and foundation works, drainage works, pedestrian and vehicle access bridges, valve structures, riverbank flood protection works and retaining walls.

